From the Principal's Desk

DR. JATINDER BIR SINGH PRINCIPAL

Sri Guru Gobind Singh College of Commerce takes pride in being a premier institution of the University of Delhi. We continue to strive to forge ahead in the pursuit of excellence in all walks of life.

Our accomplishments bear testimony to the fact that our persistent strives have helped build a conducive environment for our students to achieve soaring heights. We continue to hold the belief that the role of an educational institute is to nurture young minds who are the assets of our nation. This nourishment is to be provided by exposing them to avenues of attaining academic excellence along with exposure to wholesome cultural experiences, ensuing a physically enriching environment with opportunities to intelligently demonstrate their knowledge and skills.

Every year, we take stock of our achievements and shortcomings as well as our challenges and aspirations through the compilation of our year book. In chronicling all academic and cultural achievements of our students and faculty we learn useful lessons for the path ahead. We also find great satisfaction in presenting our laurels and acknowledging the efforts. This year given the present pandemic situation the possibility of a physical meeting and presentation being unviable, we present our proud accomplishments in the form of this report for the session 2019-20.

Needless to say, our ever-supportive governing body, able and experienced faculty, bright and brilliant students and a capable team of non-teaching staff have all played an important role in all our achievements.

NEW DELHI: The north municipality's waste segregation drive at Rohini has become a subject of research for students of Economics from Sri Guru Gobind Singh College of Commerce, Pitampura.

A team of 12 students, led by Associate Professor Paramjeet Kaur, has been visiting each society with an exhaustive questionnaire, asking residents details such as how many members are there in their family, what is their education level, income level and segregation habits.

"These will be analysed to understand if a relationship exists between these aspects. Tools of economic studies such as Logit, Tobit and Factor analysis will be used to draw conclusions," said Kaur.

Already, 600 samples from 55 societies have been collected since the students began the survey in mid-June.

The questionnaire also asks residents, "How much they would like to pay as 'user fee' to the municipal body for daily garbage collection" and if they are aware of "pollution in the oceans and global warming caused by mixed garbage accumulation".

"In addition to this, there is a separate questionnaire for private waste collectors, which asks them how much time it takes for them to segregate a kilo of mixed waste, how much they earn from selling the recyclable waste and where it is disposed finally," said Harneet Kaur, a third year student of Economics (Honours) at Sri Guru Gobind Singh College of Commerce.
